This year SUNDEK celebrates 50 years in business. SUNDEK has been at the forefront of decorative concrete since 1970. From the beginning, SUNDEK has led through their people and passion for innovation. In 1970, the Stambaugh brothers, developed a revolutionary product now known as SUNDEK classic texture, which would establish SUNDEK products as the industry standard for decorative concrete overlays. "The early years were literally my brothers and a couple guys on a crew. I was a crew helper in the beginning and learned the business starting in the bucket. Fast forward to 1983 when we expanded the program to include a nationwide installation base, it's been great being a part of such a rapidly growing industry" said Mark Stambaugh President of SUNDEK. Five decades later, the product line has expanded and evolved as SUNDEK continuously drives the decorative concrete industry's' development through cooperation and innovation, creating new solutions to stay ahead of evolving technologies and industry trends.

In 1970 there were but a handful of decorative concrete contractors and manufacturers. Over the years thousands of contractors have gotten into the decorative concrete business and are no longer around. "This is an easy business to get into, but a very hard business to stay in," said Charlie Plunk CEO of SUNDEK. He went on to say, "Our strong industry reputation is largely due to our commitment to recruiting and supporting the best contractors, businessmen and women in the industry and ensuring only the most qualified are a part of the SUNDEK team." Through this global network of qualified and highly motivated SUNDEK installers, continued growth will remain strong for this family owned business throughout the next half century.

We invite all those who have made history with us along the way to join us in celebrating how far we've come together and to continue working with us towards an even more exciting future in the decorative concrete industry.
